Music and Words— Putting the two together

Song 1:
“The Hooded Maiden”
by Llewellyn

- Listen to the song, as you are doing so, try to compose a poem. The poem should match the “mood” of the song. In this case, somewhat brooding, haunting, mysterious, etc.
- There is no set length, style, or topic, for your poem. See where your mind leads you.

Song 2:
“The Water is Wide”
by Celtic Orchestra

- Listen to the song, as you are doing so, try to compose a poem. In this case, try to write a poem about a young couple.
- There is no set length, or style, for your poem. The only requirement is the inclusion of the couple, and that the poem fits the mood of the song.
